

The Most advanced and affordable on hold messaging system

Imagine The Technology

The AMS runs on any standard computer with a sound card or voice modem to play the telephone on hold messages. The software runs in the background so that the computer can be used in your office as normal.

Imagine The Capacity

The AMS supports over 100 music tracks or messages and can store over 5 hours of high quality audio.

Imagine The Automation

Evolved Sound can upload your regularly produced messages automatically via the internet to always keep you up-to-date.

Imagine The Flexibility

It is easy to schedule messages to commence and expire on certain dates, or to play on specified days of the week, or at different times of the day.

Imagine The Customisation – Digital Message Production

By selecting the suitable voice from our talent bank, Evolved Sound can create customised messages for your business. Load your messages into the software and you are ready to go!
